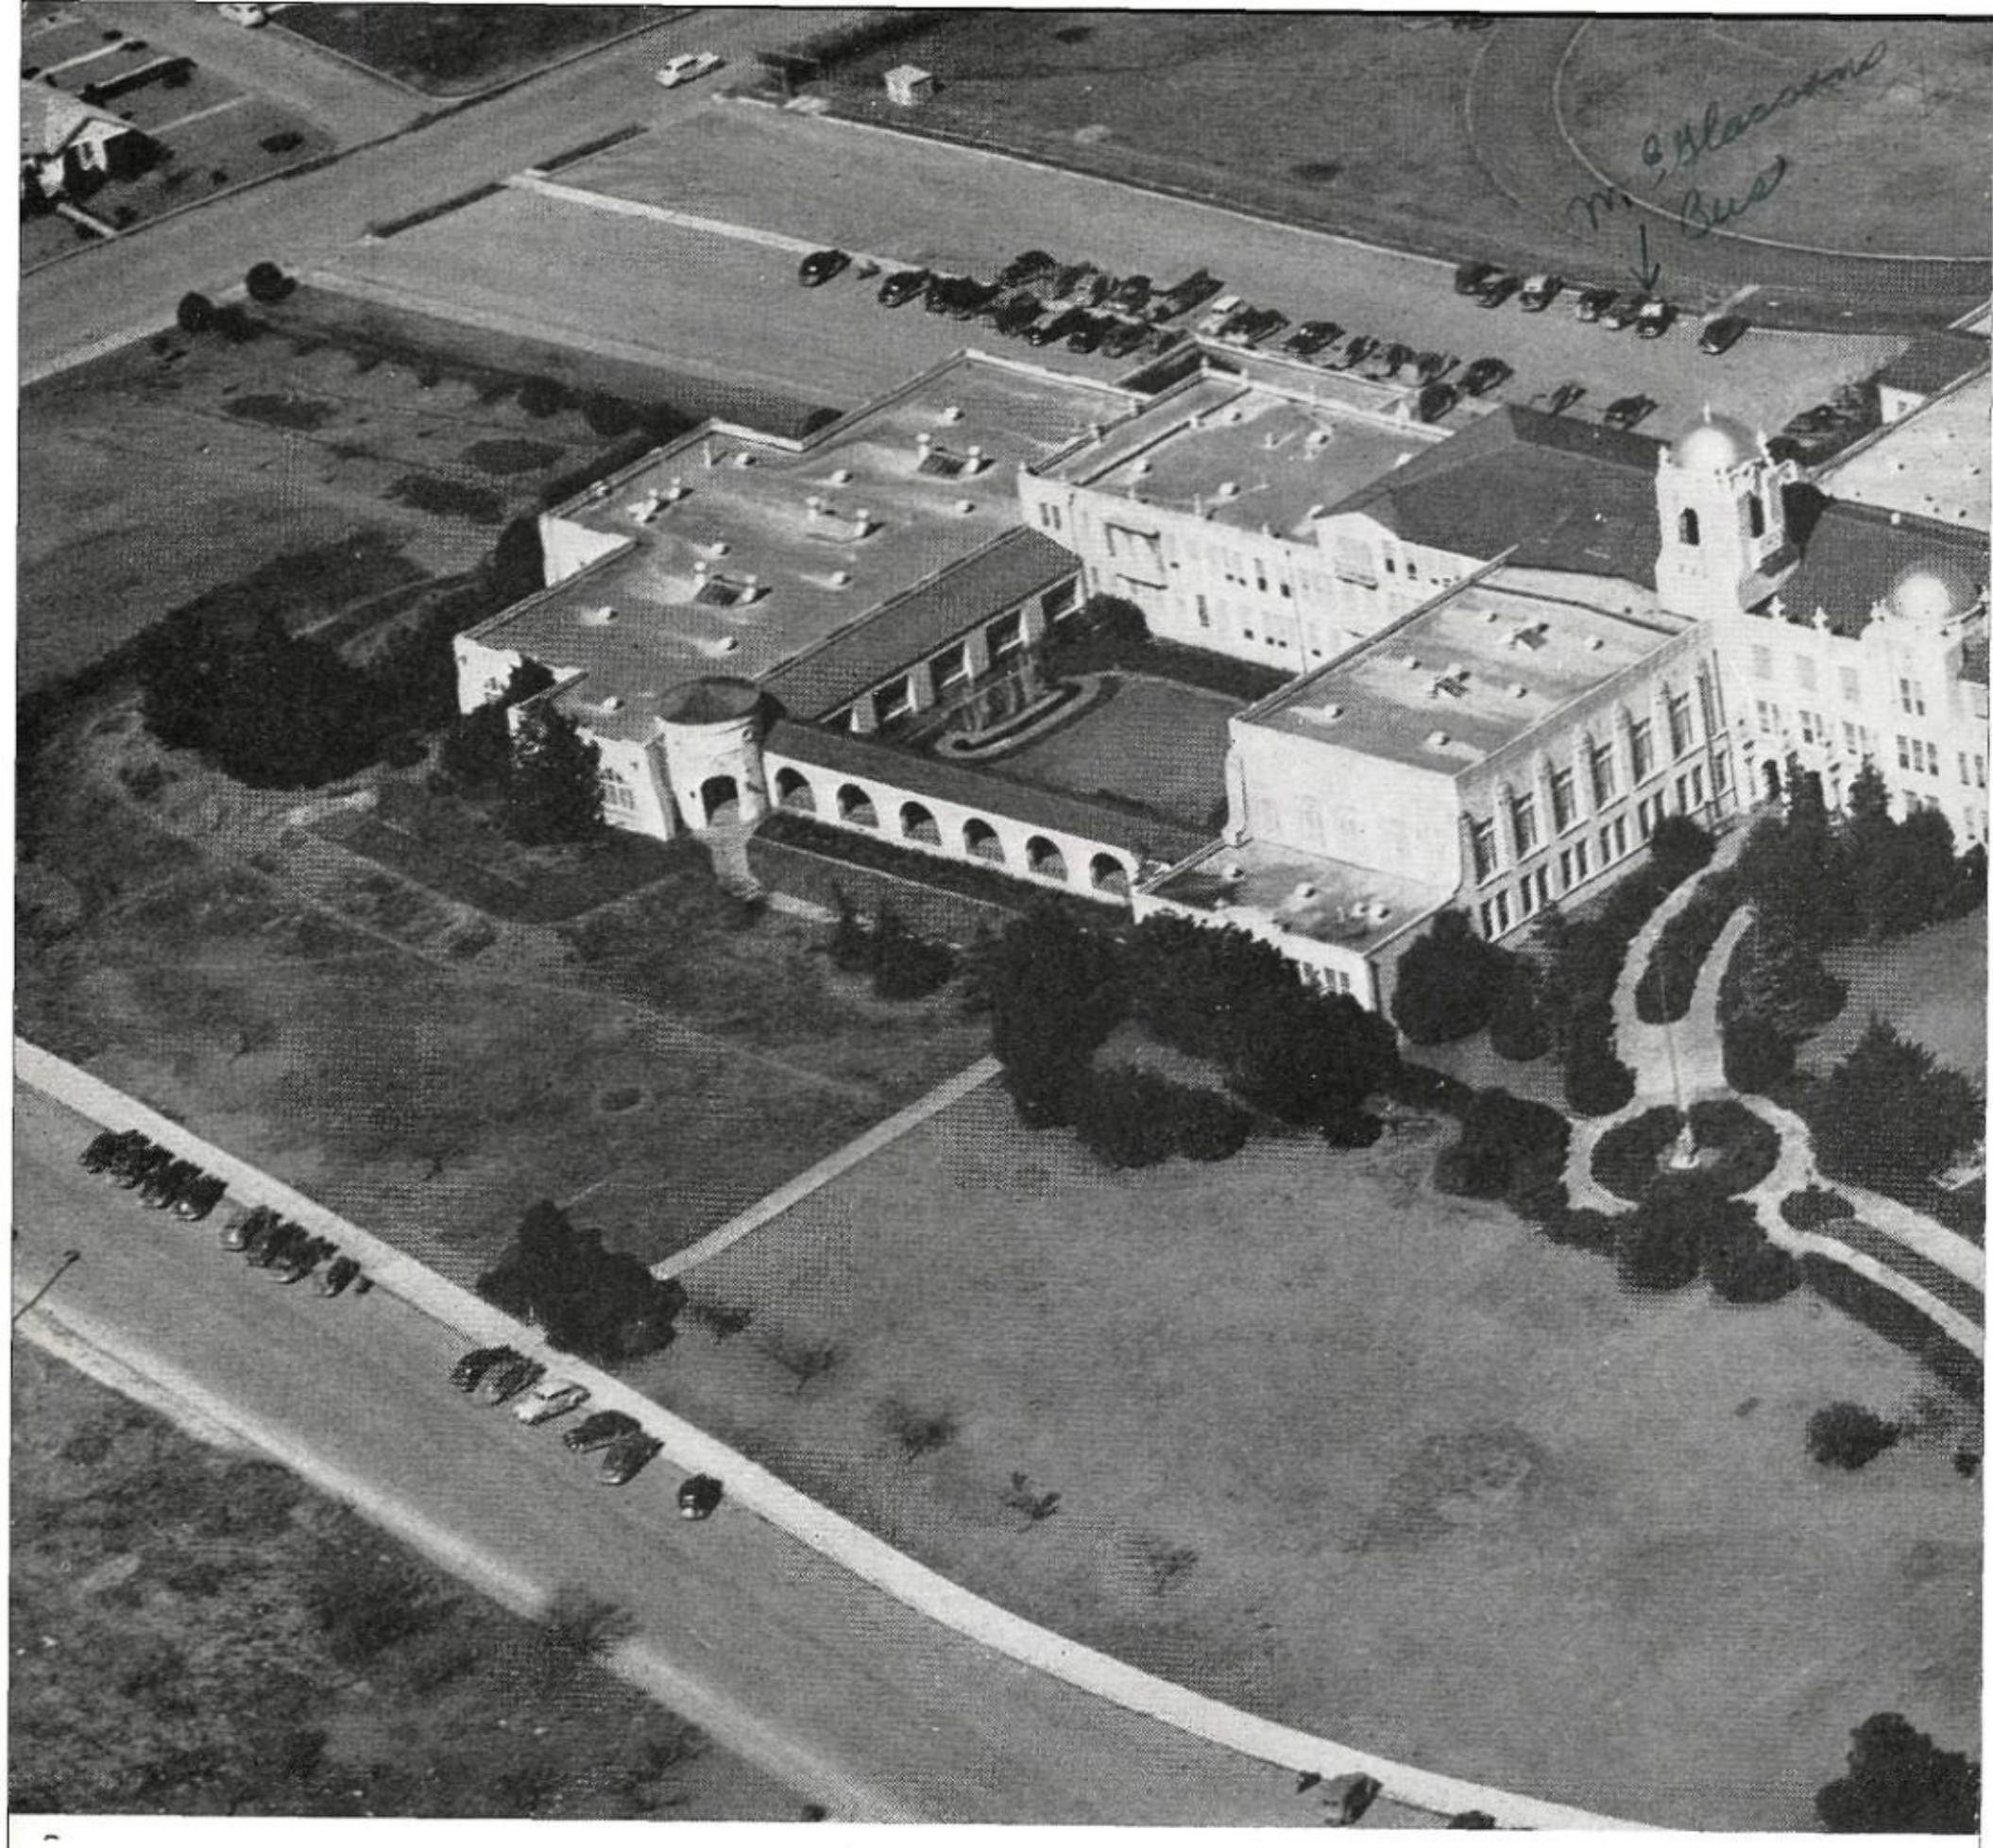
Mission Concepcion

Mission San Juan

Dedication

Great gray gems on a silver chain are these old Spanish missions on the San Antonio River. Rare examples are they of that beautiful Spanish architecture brought by the padres from the rolling Spanish plains and the cities of Castile during the Mission Era, when the Franciscans, with their crucifixes their only weapons, first ventured beyond the Rio Grande into unexplored wild country and built one paradise after another in the midst of miles and miles of wilderness. Today picturesque San Antonio stands solidly against this background of romantic history; the influence of the old missions is found everywhere in the city's architecture. Neglected too long, their ancient, weatherbeaten walls enclosing treasured little portions of those days when a rare civilization flourished for the Indians at the hands of men of gentle birth, these missions are now receiving the attention their dignity deserves. Eventually, we trust, all of them will become national historic sites, as did San Jose, Queen of all the Missions, by an Act of Congress in 1935. May our dedication, so proudly given, draw even more attention to these stately monuments of a long-gone era and to the preservation they have so richly earned.

Mission San Francisco de la Espada



Viewed from the air, almost all of our thirty-three acres can be seen.

Campus and court, field and patio . . . all are a part of our lovely Jefferson.

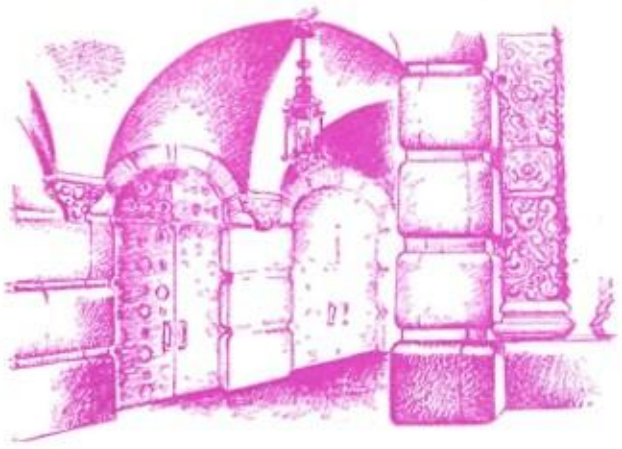
A lovely Jefferson interior . . . our beautiful auditorium carries out the Spanish motif.

Aztec designs on ceiling and lovely hanging balconies are enhanced by hidden lights.

By night our awe-inspiring main entrance, silver rays of light casting dancing shadows on the intricate designs of the Spanish columns, is very lovely.



Inspiring sentinels of learning,
these regal columns, impressive, majestic, stand guard at the main entrance of our school.

Familiar evergreens,
now a lacy, lovely
pattern of beauty.

Lengthening shadows,
myriad footprints,
an unfamiliar white covering.

Framed in intricate lacy designs, our cafeteria entrance proudly bears our ever significant motto, "In Omni Uno."

LOVELIEST

mission in the Western World — its picturesque arcaded cloisters, its domed chapels, its high Gothic tower, its elaborately carved cedar doors, its main entrance sculptured in bold relief with fine statues of the saints, its famous Rose Window, the memorial created by the grieving Huisar, the Spanish sculptor whose carvings seem to live and move in the moonlight — all these we saw today when we visited beautiful San Jose Mission.

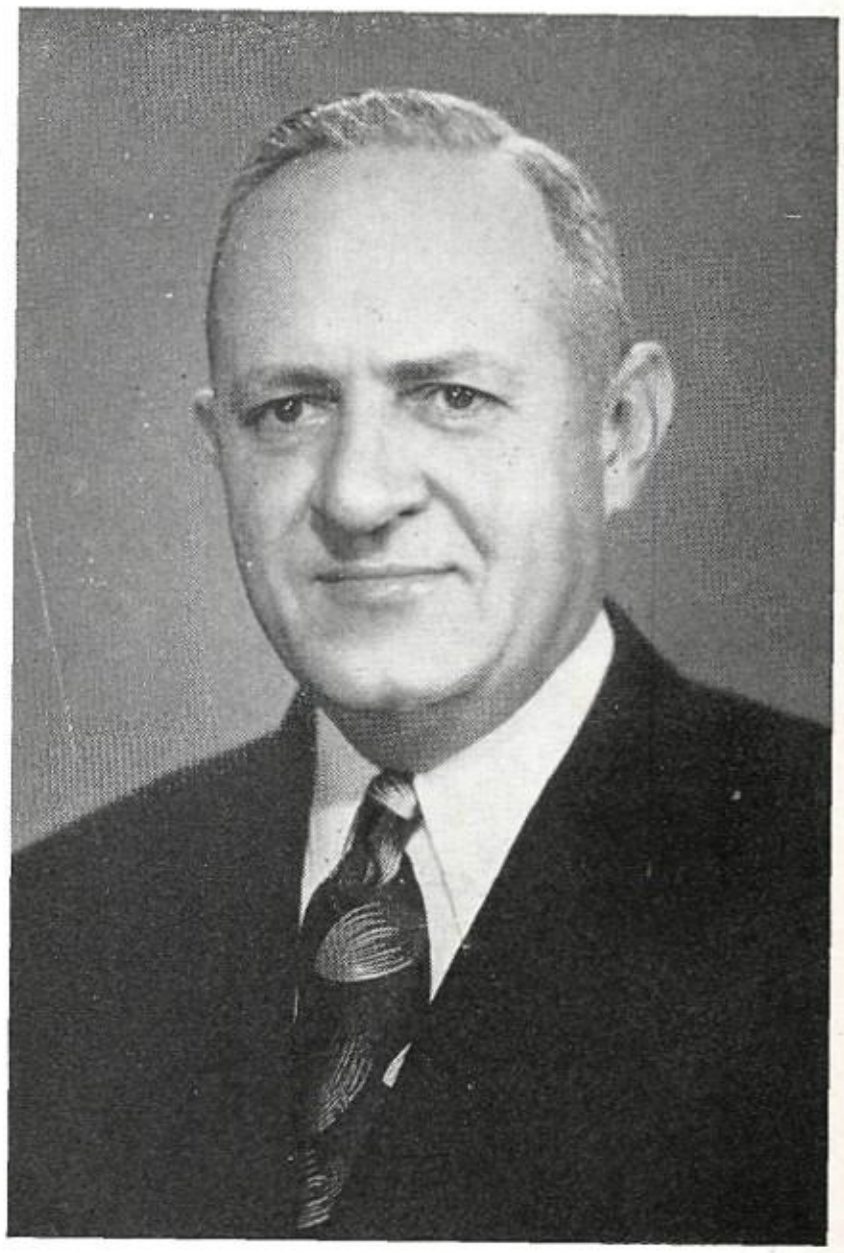
Mr. Thomas B. Portwood

Almost two decades ago someone dreamed a dream; then, through his initiative, his determination, his foresight, he made that dream come true. Spanish Acres it was then — thirty-three acres of bush and brush, weeds and wilderness — yet one man's determination created there a great building, very beautiful. Already our Jefferson is a tradition, cherished by thousands who claim it, known nationally for its beauty and its prowess. We thank you, Mr. Portwood, the one whose dream came true for us.

Close to Jefferson hearts is one who, through the years, while he was the well loved principal of Horace Mann Junior School, sent his graduates to us to become leaders here. Through the honors they won for us, they reflected glory on the school and its leader who had trained them for Jefferson. We admire very much his warm smile, his wise understanding, and his splendid appreciation of good things. We thank you, Mr. Miller, for the part you have played and are playing in Jefferson's greatness.

Mr. Oscar E. Miller



Mr. T. Guy Rogers

Our Principal

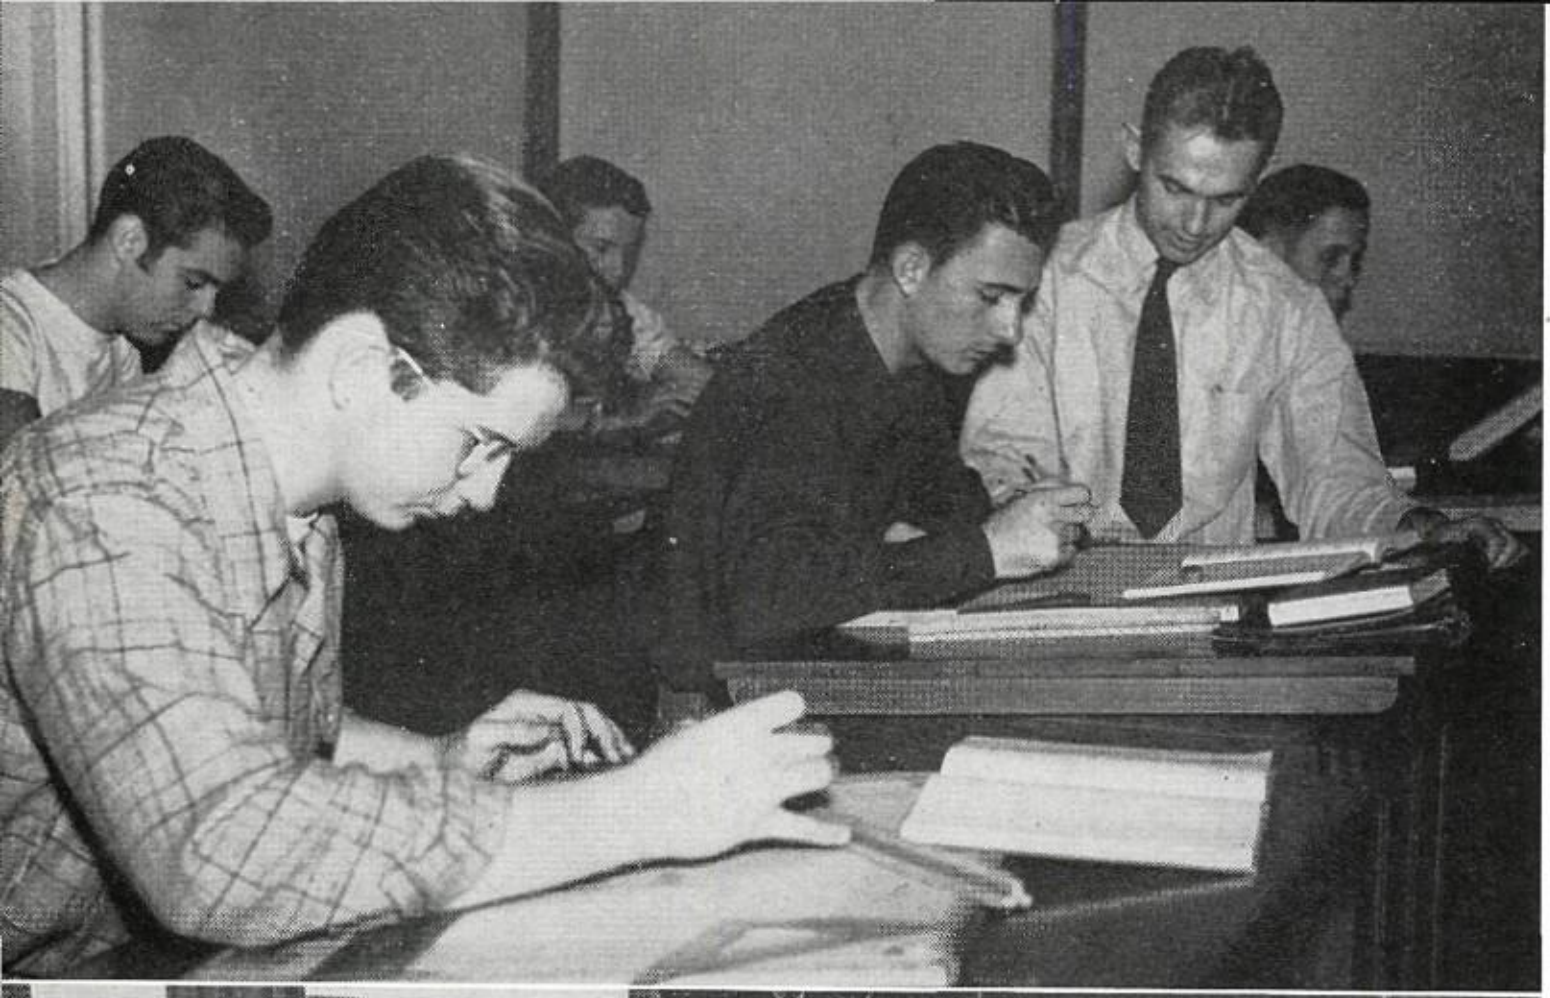
Trusted guide, invaluable friend, democratic leader, efficient organizer — all these in a large measure are one whose inspirational leadership, friendly manner, unselfish guidance, rare sense of humor, and personal attention to every detail have made our school one of the most beautiful and outstanding in the nation. Because he himself is fine and stable, he believes in us, and we in turn try to live up to his belief. For all that you mean to Jefferson and to us, we salute you, our friend and principal, Mr. T. Guy Rogers.

Mr. Raymond W. Arnold

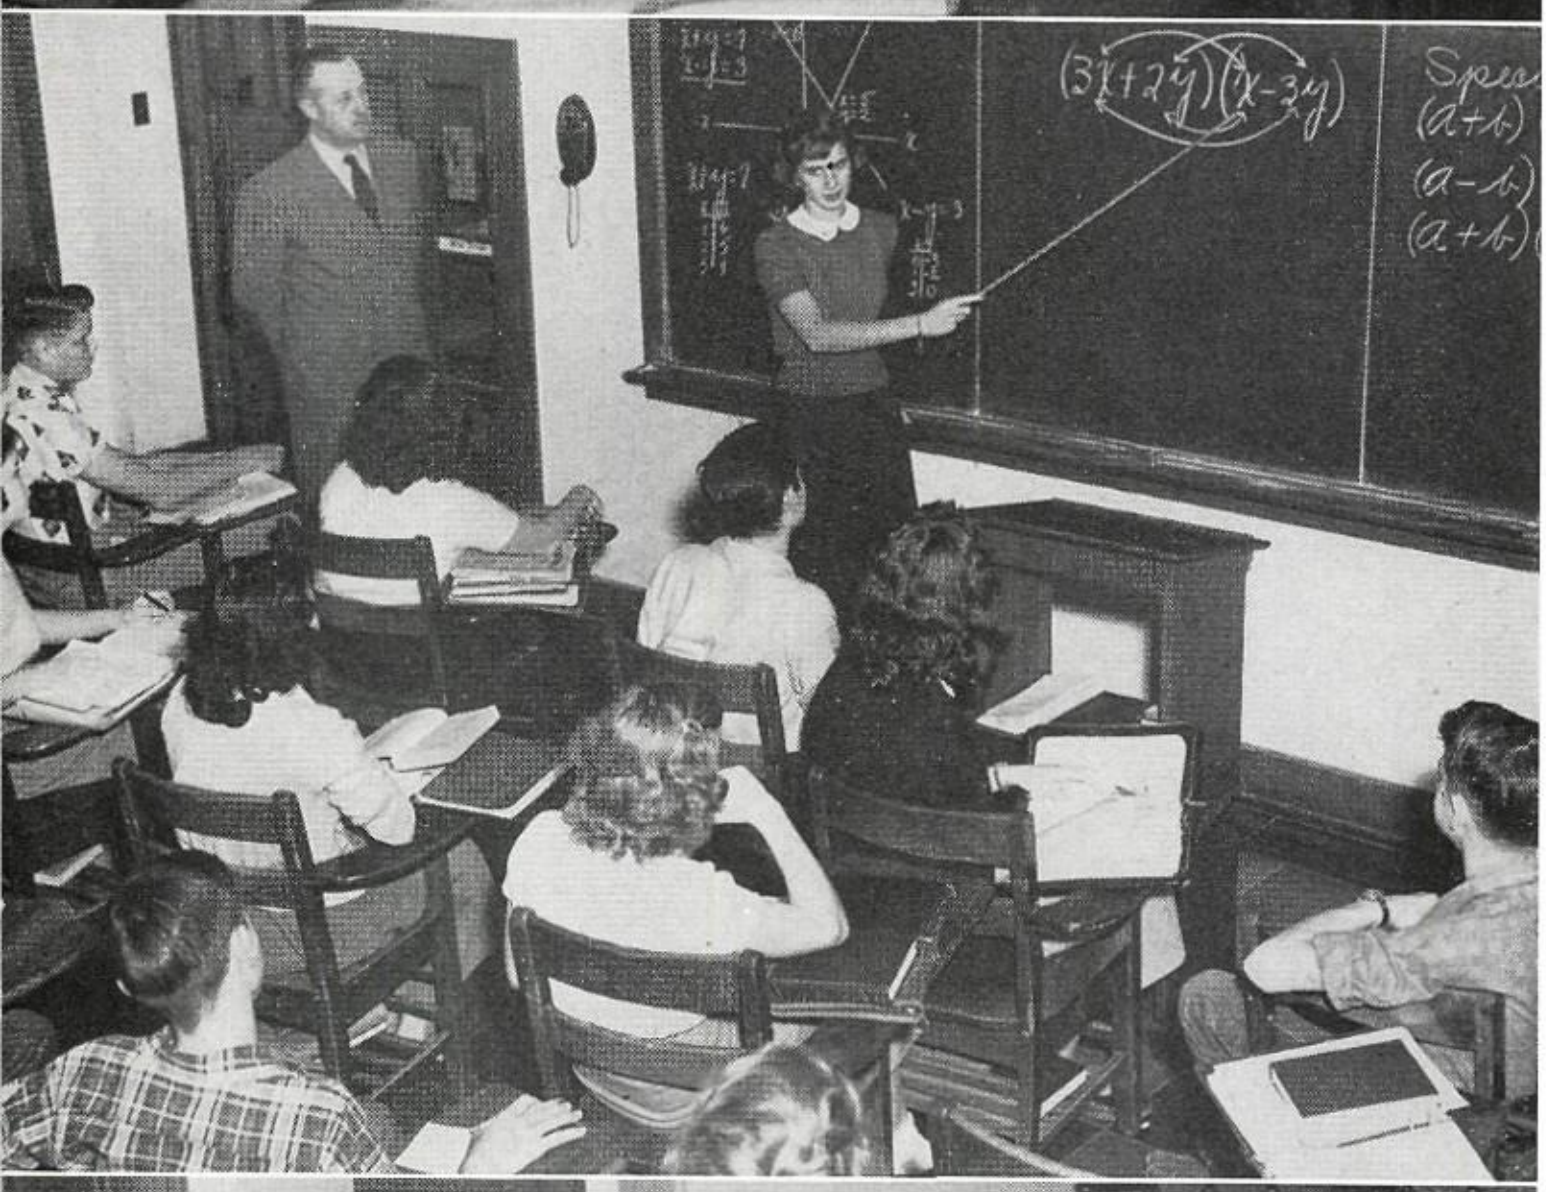
Friendliness, capability, dependability, tolerance, dignity, understanding, courtesy, sympathy — all these are the qualities of the true gentleman whose friendly counsel and wise guidance Jefferson boys almost involuntarily seek when problems beset us. He is the symbol of the friendship and democracy for which the great Thomas Jefferson himself stood. On the campus and in the corridors as well as in your office, Mr. Arnold, we can depend upon your unswerving allegiance to our school and to us.

Calmness, serenity, sweetness, friendliness, lightning-like efficiency, unbelievable understanding, brilliance of mind, and warmth of character — these are the qualities we marvel at and admire in one who is every girl's invaluable adviser, every student's real friend, and our school's good fortune to have. Never too hurried to help us solve our troubles, she makes us feel enriched and even much more sure of ourselves after a visit to her office. We know how much you mean to us, Miss Smith.

Miss Frances Smith



Drawing boards, T-squares, rulers, triangles, compasses, brains — all these are the equipment for Mr. Hays's always popular mechanical drawing classes.



A binomial multiplication problem is very carefully and seriously explained to Mr. Arrowood's intensely interested algebra class.

Future scientists in Miss Stein's biology class earnestly study the scale of a fish through the microscope, science's basic tool.

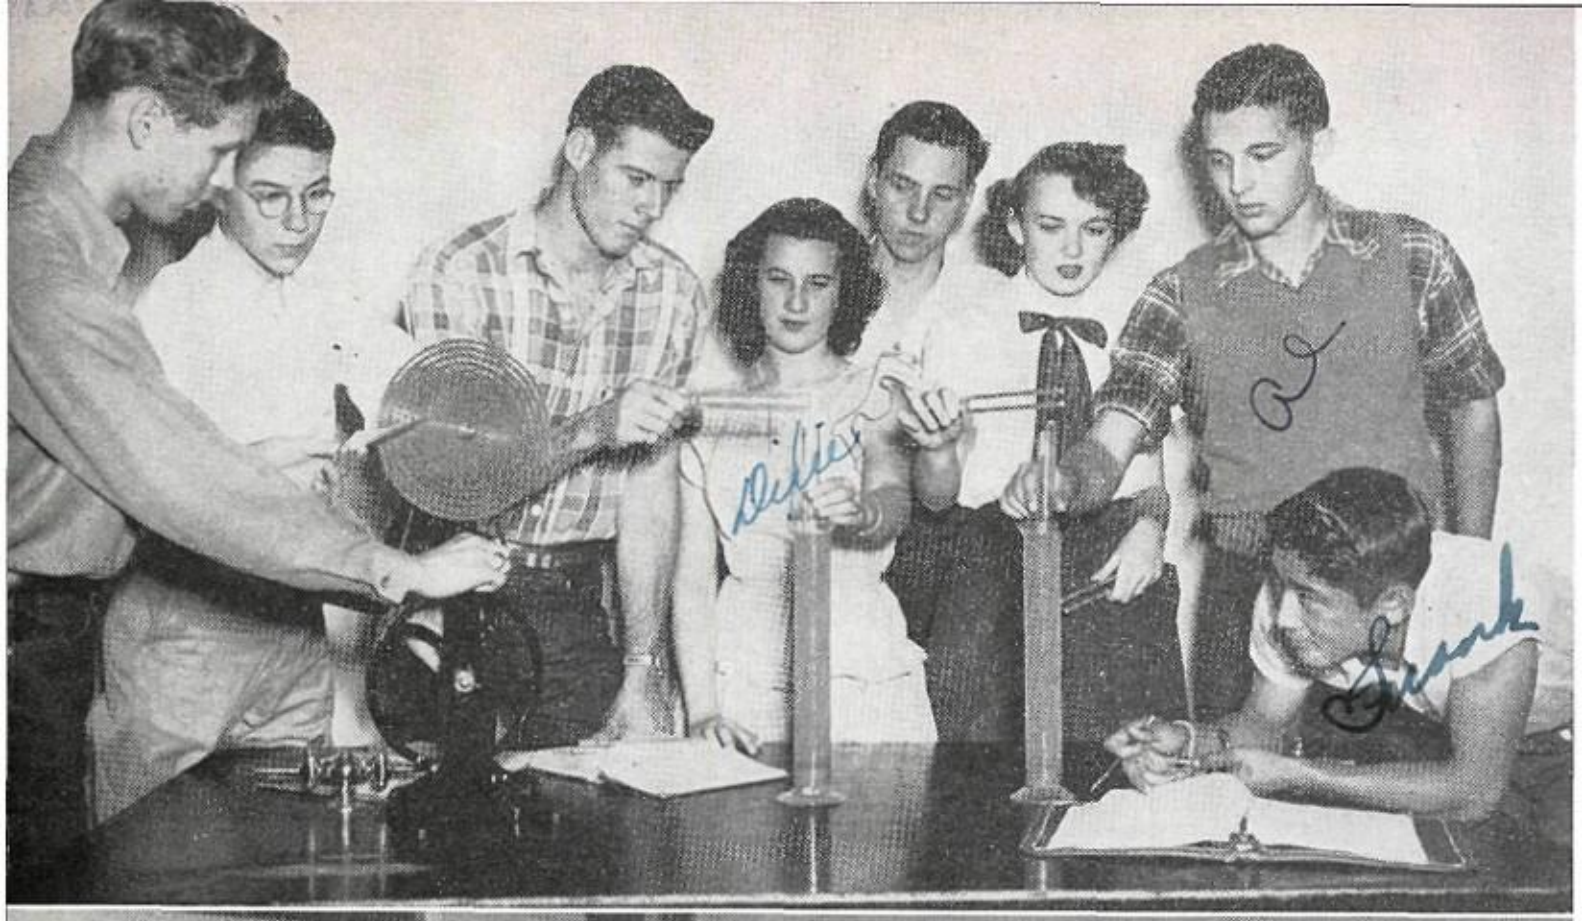
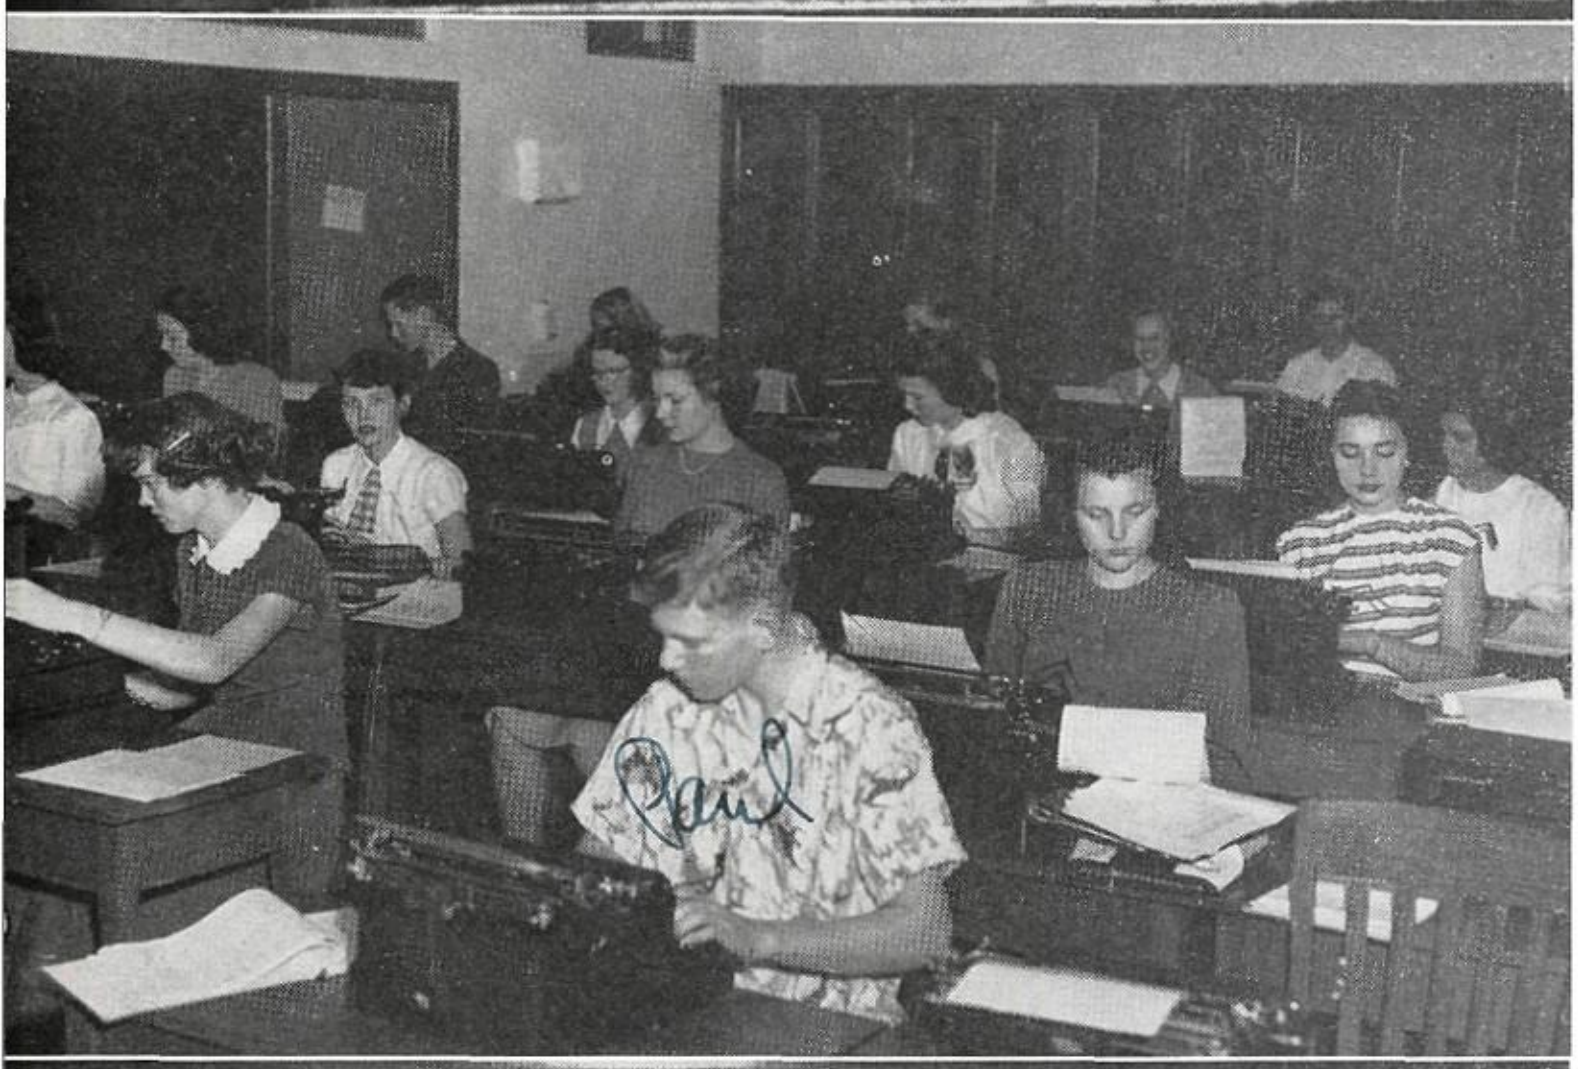
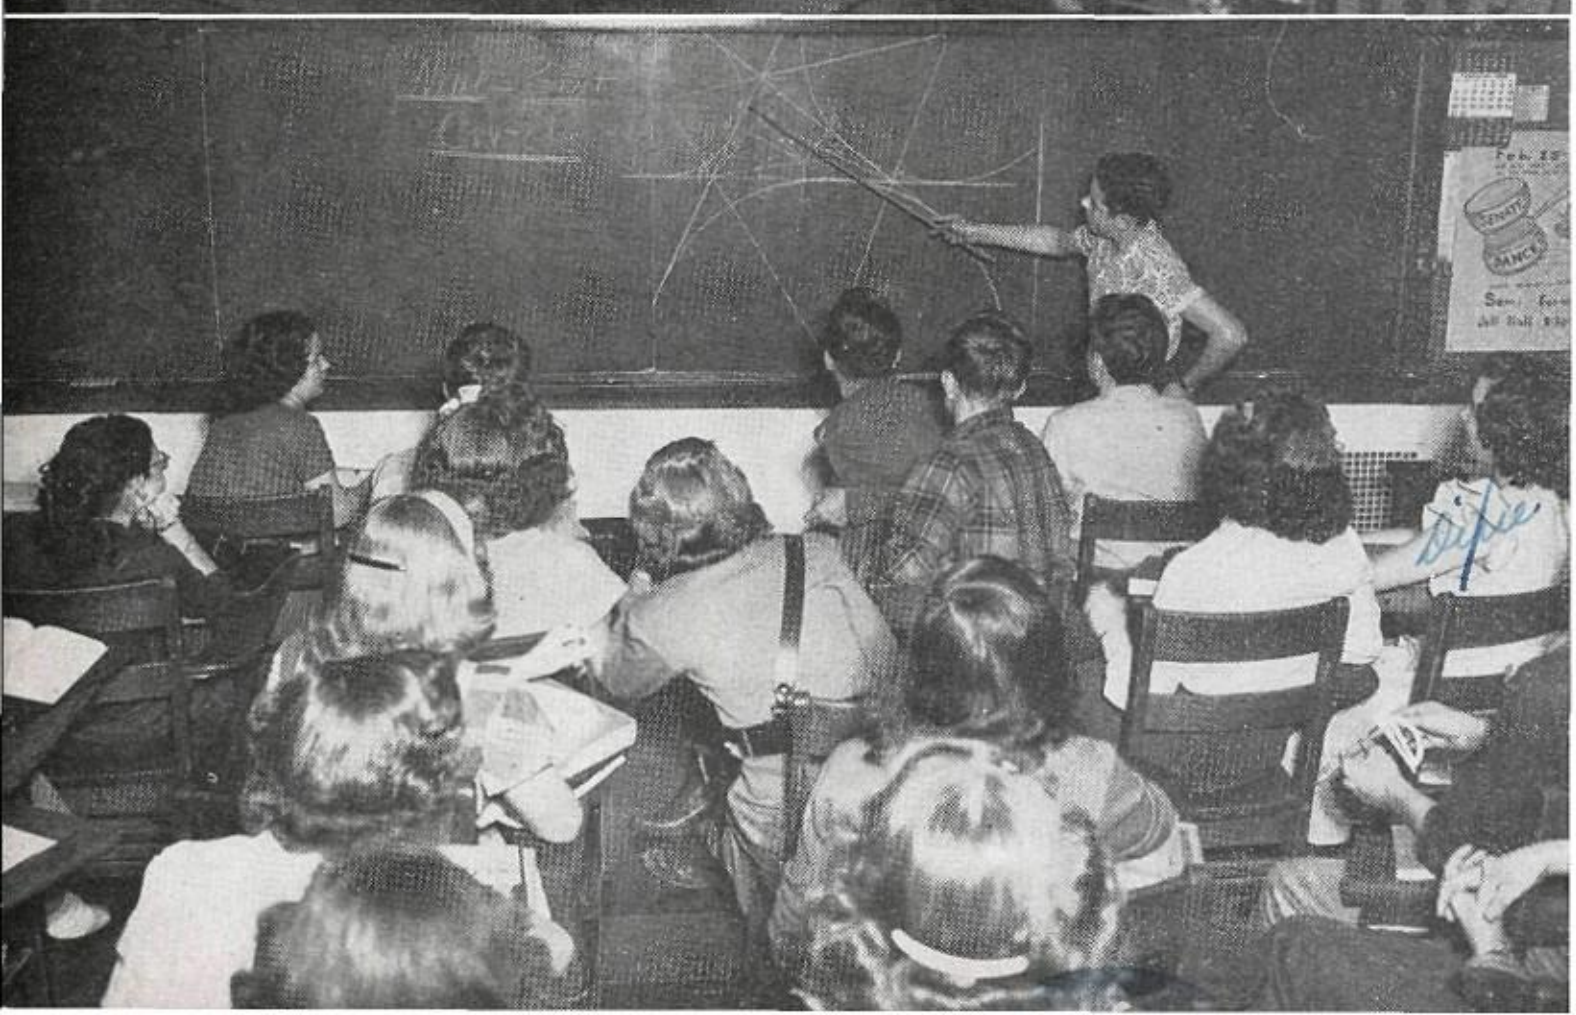
The new public address system in our Main Office is thoroughly tested by our principal, Mr. Rogers, and Miss Jimenez, Miss Anderson, and Miss Neal.



Trying to solve the mystery of sound waves' actions is a fascinating job for students of Mr. Sprott's interested physics class.



Tomorrow's typing speed demons today learn the fundamentals of being good typists in Mrs. Chadwick's interesting classes.



Combining the famous nine-point circle theorem and Feverbach's theorem relative to escribed circles, Mr. McDaniel's students discover the beauty of geometric constructions.

Mr. Raymond W. Arnold, our Assistant Principal, gives important instructions to his serious young assistants. Fortunate girls!

Wonderful class! Miss McFarland's girls in cooking class prepare delicious foods and then enjoy them at a gala Valentine party.

Attentive typing students listen to valuable instructions in Miss Finney's class; eager students realize the future value of this very important course.

Combining their study of a map of England with attractive pictorial material, Miss George's history class learns at first hand about our mother country.

Miss Frances Smith, our Dean of Girls, is completely surrounded by the fortunate girls who serve as her office assistants.

Studying famous artists' work, students in Miss Dugosh's art class listen attentively to an explanation of the intricacy and delicacy of Chinese art.

Members of Mrs. Kennedy's family relations class join in an interesting round table discussion of an everyday problem of interest to teen-agers.

Using the modern method of learning about world problems, students of Mr. Abbott's history class have found something vitally interesting in their study of new magazines.

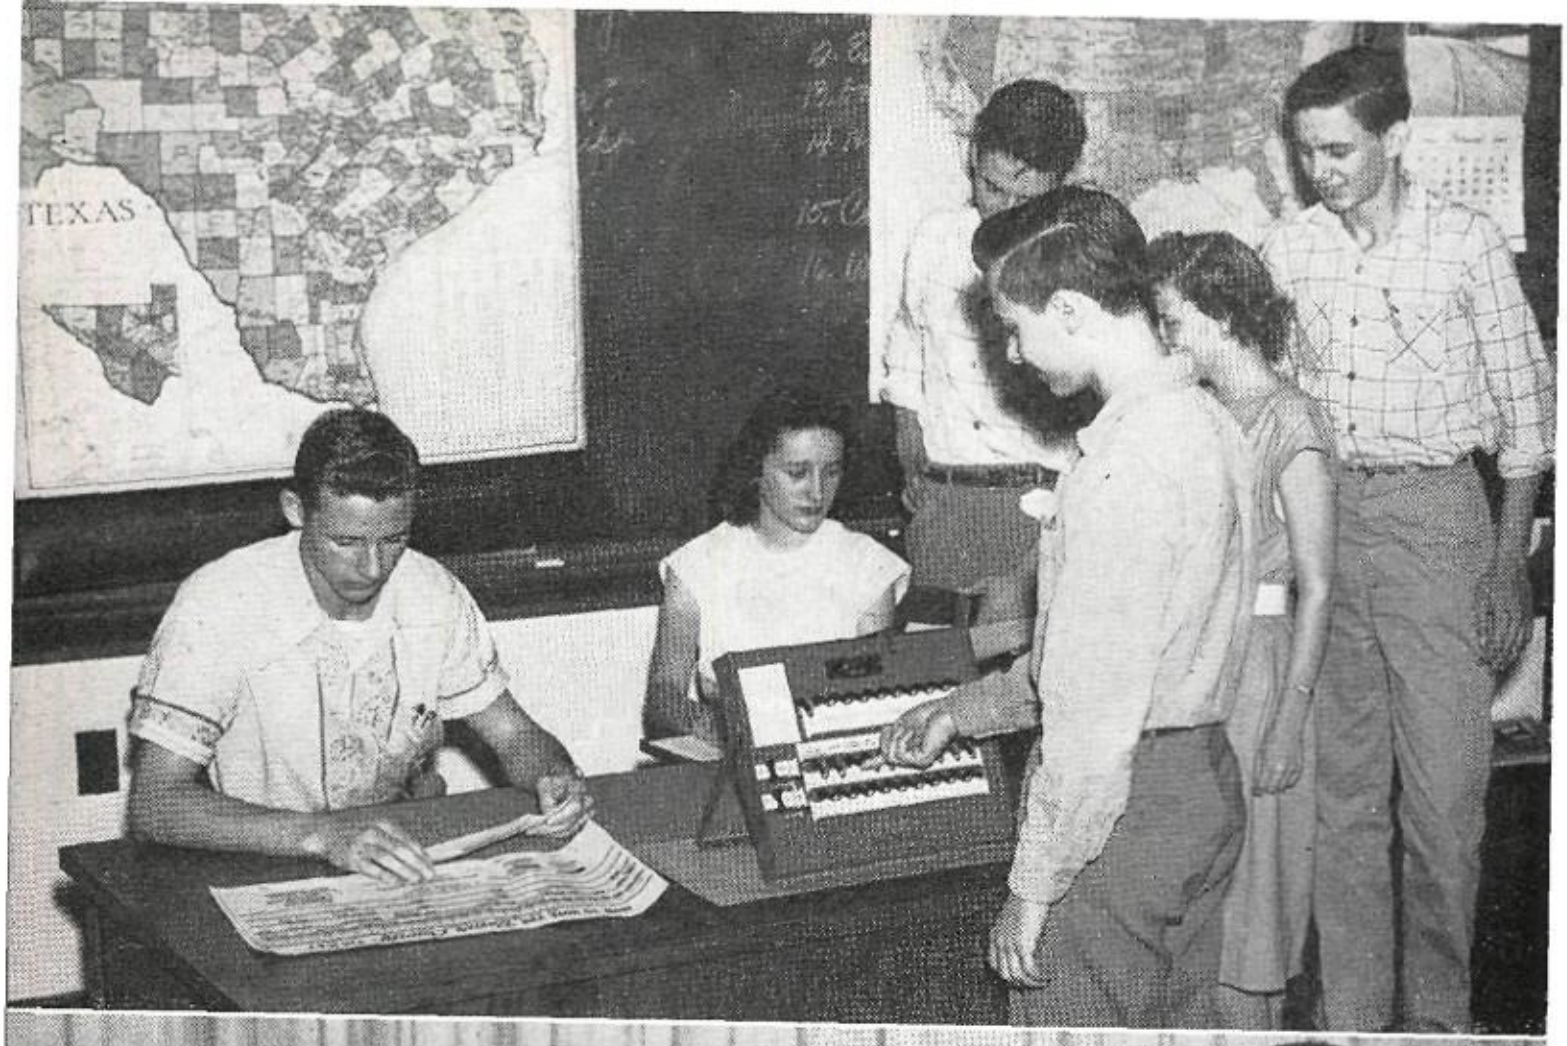
Mrs. Maud W. Parker, Attendance Officer, is shown with her girls who transact daily the tasks required in her attendance office.



Students of today are citizens of tomorrow. Members of Miss Vogel's civics class practice their greatest citizenship right, the privilege of voting.

With confidence, poise, and ability to present their case clearly and concisely Mrs. McDaniel's debate team members practice for debating contests.

Very valuable to speech classes is the wire recorder; students are enabled to hear their own voices on the playback so that they may correct any speech defects.

Founders' Day

was the mission chapel we visited today, so far off the beaten path that visitors too easily miss it. Here the Franciscan Fathers of two centuries ago placed no sculptured decoration, no rounded arches, no towers. With its pointed gables, its pierced campanario, bell gable, in place of a steeple, its convent and living quarters, although unrestored, visible as for authenticity, Mission San Juan Capistrano was truly interesting.

History of the Class of 1950

Rap! Rap! Rap! ⋆⋆⋆ First meeting of our class ⋆⋆ was called to order ⋆⋆ to elect a nominating committee ⋆⋆⋆ Class got off to flying start ⋆⋆ with well selected officers ⋆⋆ Mickey Nay Thompson as our president ⋆⋆ to lead us through a year of activity ⋆⋆ under the sponsorship ⋆⋆ of Mrs. Audrey L. Terry ⋆⋆⋆ Surplus of enthusiasm ⋆⋆ was easily noted ⋆⋆ at the junior party in the cafeteria ⋆⋆ in October ⋆⋆ when juniors devoured ice cream and cake ⋆⋆ sweetly accompanied by the lilting music ⋆⋆ of the Melody Mustangs ⋆⋆⋆ Great increase in self-confidence ⋆⋆ was now quite obvious ⋆⋆⋆ Lofty ambitions ⋆⋆ for our coming senior year ⋆⋆ now loomed upon our horizon ⋆⋆⋆ "When I was a young soph—" ⋆⋆ typical junior conversation ⋆⋆ for we had now risen far above habitual childish questions ⋆⋆ and difficulty with unfamiliar problems ⋆⋆⋆ New term in January ⋆⋆ new classes ⋆⋆ new friends ⋆⋆ then came a sudden boom in class energy ⋆⋆ as we realized that we juniors would soon have the grave responsibility ⋆⋆ of helping the seniors graduate ⋆⋆⋆ Suddenly some of us were chosen ⋆⋆ to take the places of seniors soon to depart ⋆⋆ military ⋆⋆ class ⋆⋆ journalistic ⋆⋆ musical ⋆⋆ social ⋆⋆⋆ And then ⋆⋆ amidst bustling and tension ⋆⋆ with juniors determined to outdo all former classes ⋆⋆ came the Junior-Senior prom ⋆⋆ gala occasion ⋆⋆ long awaited ⋆⋆ our beautiful gesture to the seniors ⋆⋆⋆ Then ⋆⋆ came our chance for a glance into our senior year ⋆⋆ the traditional decoration of the stage and the auditorium for Baccalaureate and Commencement ⋆⋆ the lovely privilege ⋆⋆ of serving as ushers ⋆⋆ for these special occasions ⋆⋆⋆ Fine school and class spirit has made juniors enter fully ⋆⋆ into every phase of school life ⋆⋆⋆ As seniors next year ⋆⋆ we will have earned our honors ⋆⋆ and will try ⋆⋆ to prove ourselves worthy ⋆⋆⋆ There will be a deeper feeling in our hearts ⋆⋆ as we sing ⋆⋆ "There is a school we all love well" ⋆⋆⋆ Our senior days will be rich ⋆⋆⋆

Sponsored by the P.T.A., the all-school dance, to which all of us were cordially invited, was definitely the highlight of the school year. Beautiful music and delicious refreshments made this lovely courtesy one long to be remembered. This dance may become one of Jefferson's loveliest traditions, thanks to our mothers.

world shrine now, once San Antonio's earliest mission, created as a school to teach, civilize, and Christianize the Indians — that is the historical spot we visited today. What noble motives, wonderful courage, remarkable endurance, the early Franciscan Fathers must have been endowed with to be able to undergo the struggles and vicissitudes that necessarily were endured in the building of beautiful Mission San Antonio de Valero!

This year we kept in close touch, as usual, with our engraver and our printer. We visited the beautiful Brand plant. How clearly we were made to understand "what happens to our photographic copy." We saw the processing of halftones all the way from the making of the negative, its development, on through to the finished plate. We saw etching being done. We saw the base, the wood on which the engravings are mounted, and we understood why it has to be the same height as type. We now understand highlights. It was an educational experience, this visit of ours, with everything we saw so clearly explained to us.

Also we visited the great Clegg plant, where our book is printed and bound. We saw type of all sizes, some of it being set. We saw an enormous press in operation and understood why our book must be planned in sixteen-page sections. We saw the forms and were shown how and why they are "locked up." Fascinating were the linotypers, who gave each of us an individual name stamp. We were shown lithography and how offset differs from letterpress, also an enormous electric cutter, which is used on our book. This trip will be long remembered, as we are now very proud of the production work we ourselves did on our book.

A truly great experience is a year in the Annual Office, where a worthwhile job is actually being done, even to the mounting of all the panels. From the day we wondered which one of us was the lost "dummy" to this day when we ourselves casually discuss halftones, cuts, screens, bleed-offs, angle-ins, electrotypes, etchings, highlights, tooling, mechanical and mass balance, and always the "dummy," many happy experiences have come our way. Nowhere but in old 310 could we live such a fascinating high school life.

Truly our "Declaration" is the eyes and ears of Jefferson — sees all, hears all, and even wins all. In the University of Minnesota's Scholastic Press Association contest, the "Declaration" won a first place; in the Texas High School Press Association contest, our paper won All-Texas; in the Interscholastic League Press Conference, it won a first place. The "Declaration" was the only high school newspaper in Texas that won as many as four state firsts in the Quill and Scroll division of the "Scholastic" magazine contest last May. Individual winners include Bebe Couch, Co-Editor, one of the ten best newswriters in the United States; Bill Pope, John Mugg, and Robert Martin, who won first place in Texas as sports writer, feature writer, and news writer respectively; Frank Goodman, Co-Editor, one of the five best editorial writers in Quill and Scroll's November '48 contest also first in the American Legion oratorical contest. A valuable newspaper!

monument to the skill and devotion of the early Franciscans! Those who love San Jose are proud of the recent restoration work on the four identical gates at the four corners of the central square, an important phase of the early fortification plan. Today we closely examined one of these lovely old historic gates, saw the bastion above the arch, and loved the tall old cedar posts that formed the massive fortress gates.

Events of Last Spring

We start the story of our school with spring events of last year. Left (upper): Federal Inspection, anxiously awaited all year, is a memorable occasion for Captain Moore's polished and shined-up cadets, whose military precision pleases Colonel Knight and other inspecting officers. Left (center): Jefferson mothers are always right there when good food is needed; on Lasso Chuck Wagon Day everyone heads for the hot dogs and cokes. Left (lower): Enthusiastic but weary Lasso trainees pause for rest and refreshment on Lasso Chuck Wagon Day last spring.

Set This Year's Tempo

Operation Registration

Left (upper): Enthusiastic students, not yet wearied by the day's undue exertion, cheerfully line up for Miss Stein's biology classes, which always are fascinating because of the unusual specimens studied. Left (center): Anxious to begin their physical education training, eager girls line up in the gym to sign with Miss Richards and Miss Boyle. Many of these girls are already looking forward to Lasso days. Left (lower): Mrs. Bennett's class lists have just been reopened! How many of us can she take?

Opposite Page (upper): The Monticello Staff gives the first assembly of the year, featuring the coming individual photography days. Remember the picture made of all of you that day? Opposite Page (center): At a downtown radio station our school's "six-pointers" put on the first of the year's weekly programs. Opposite Page (lower): Remember the day you sat there with your "envelope" waiting your turn to be pictured for the yearbook? Now you are glad.

Opening Week of School

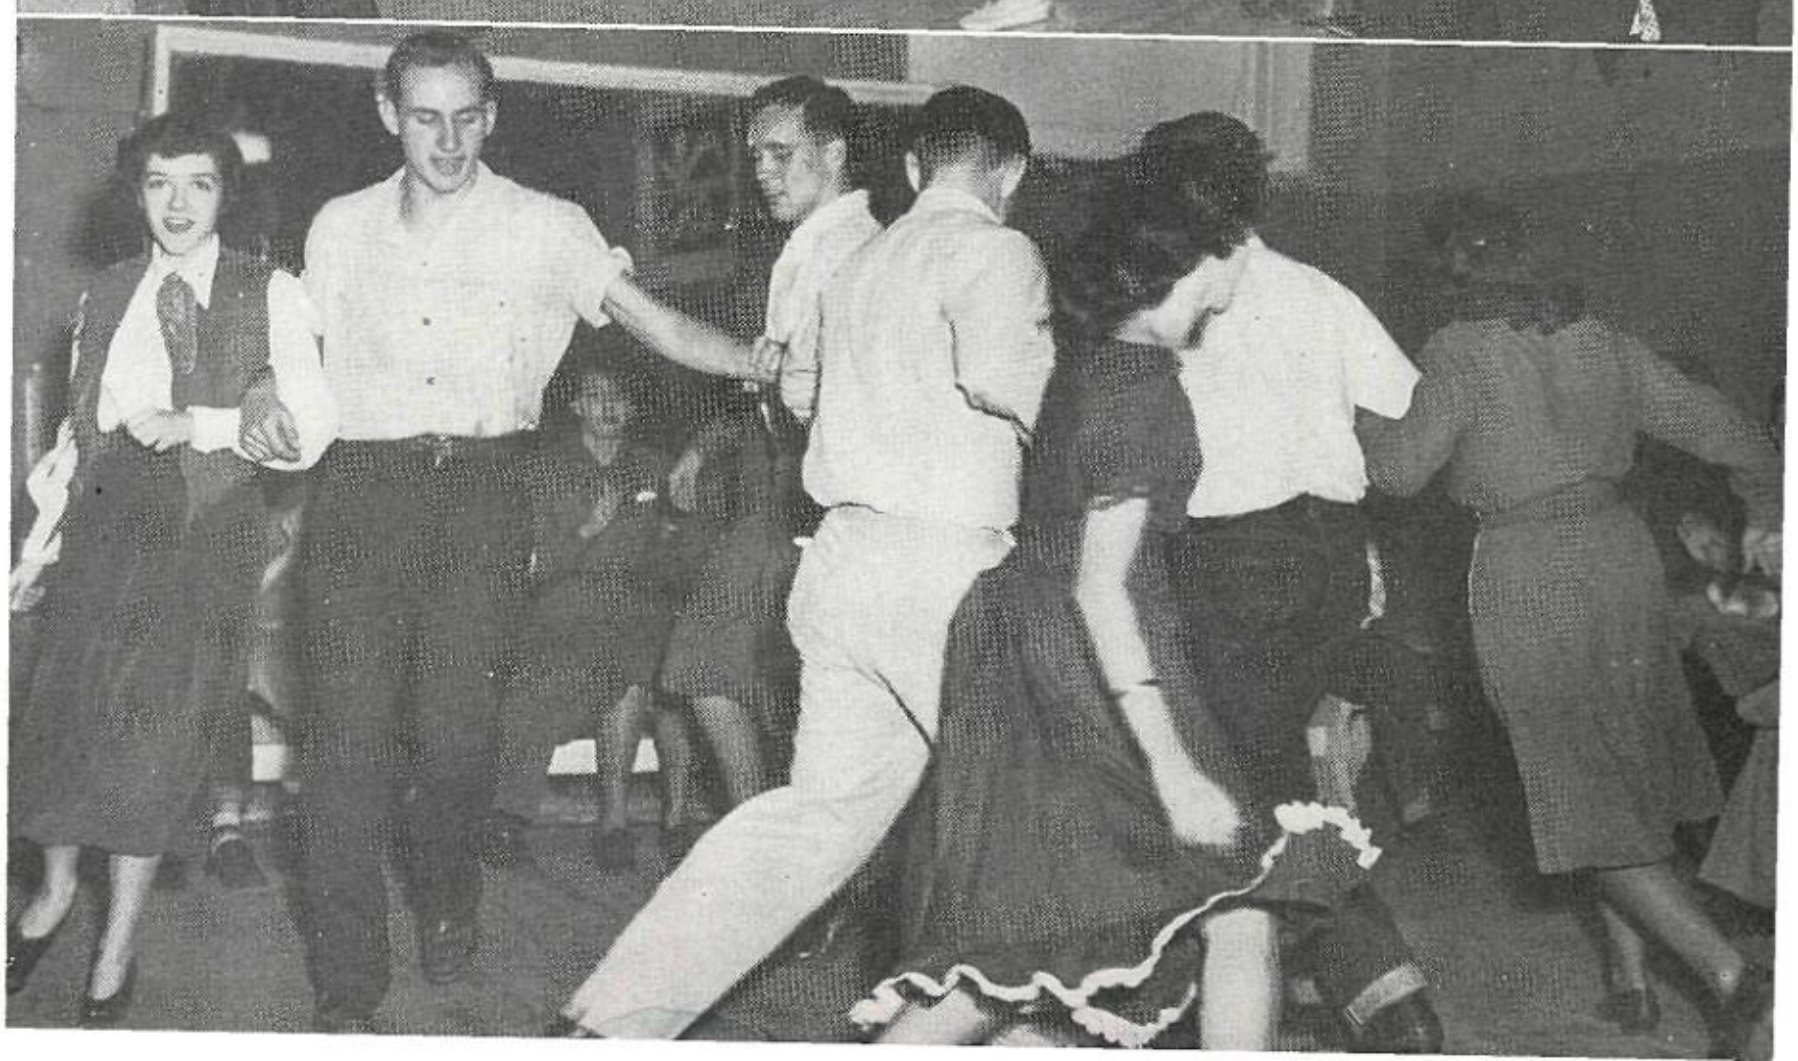
HAPPY ★ MEMORIES



Initiation Days Here Again

Club Activities Varied

★ We Observe Armistice Day ★

Above (upper): Setting the pace for our school's other uniformed groups in the Armistice Day parade, our colorful School Band draws the applause of thousands with its stirring march music and its beautiful uniforms. Above (lower): Long hours of practice pay off as endless rows of Jeff's Lassos display their accuracy and precision to thrill onlookers on Armistice Day when they reverently remember our heroes.

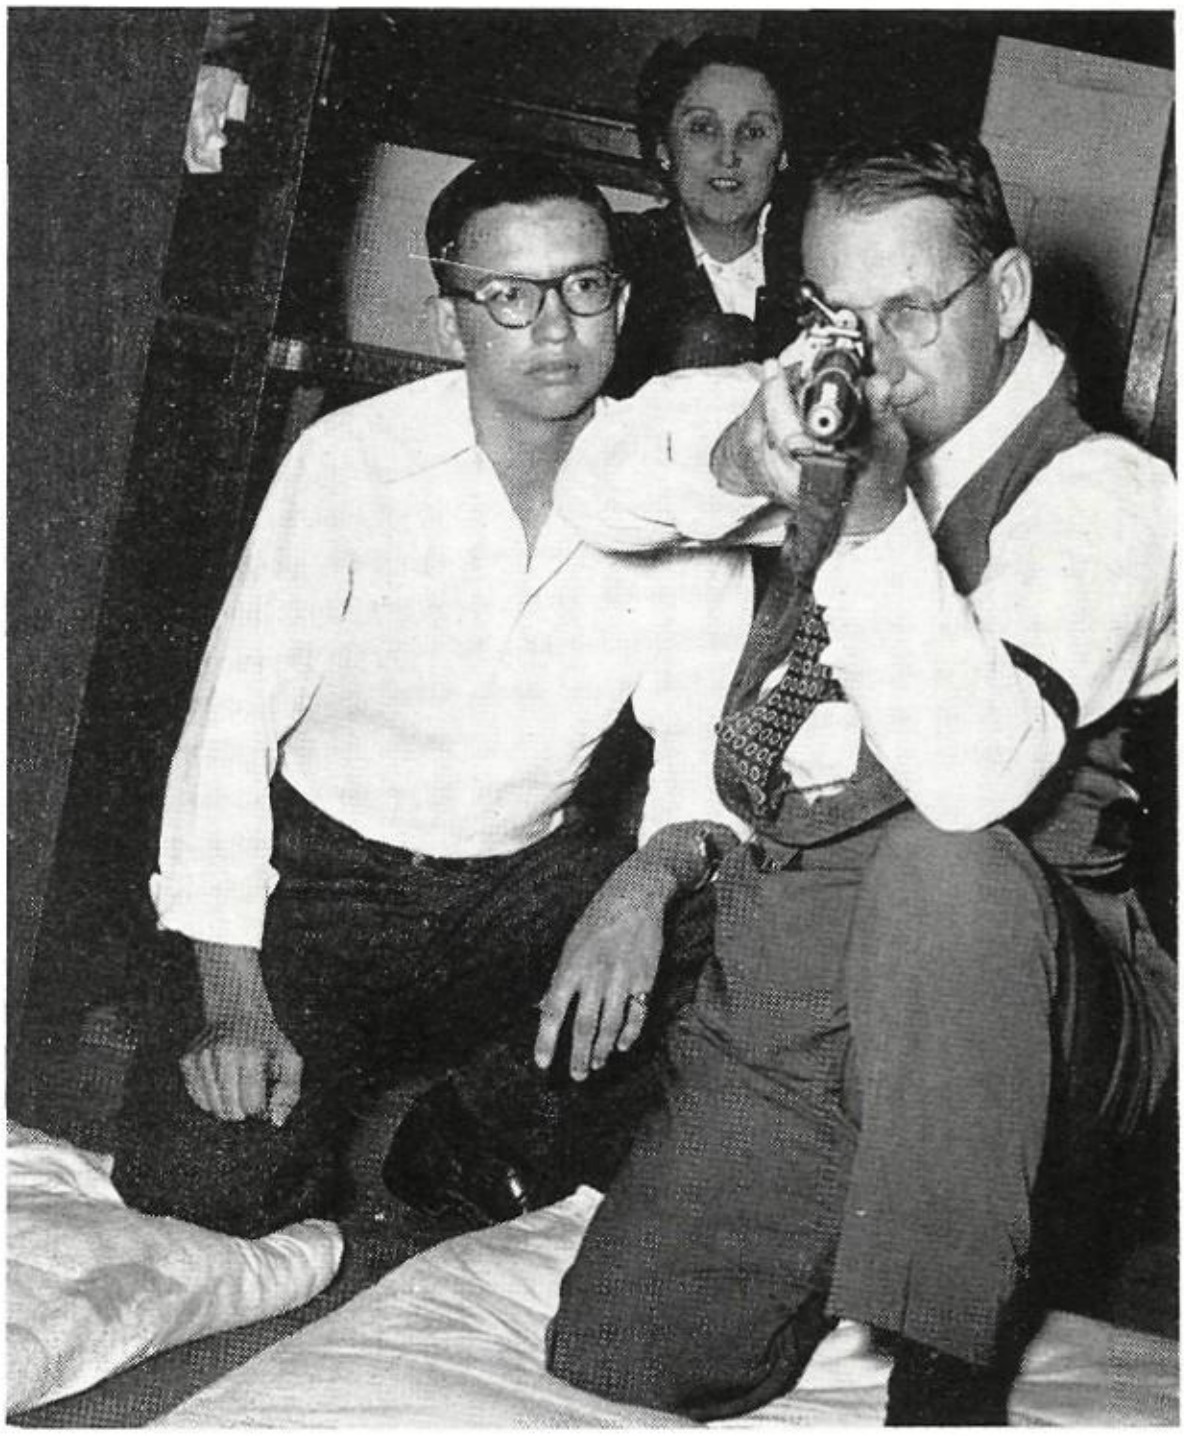
Open House Fathers' Night

Opposite Page (upper): Our cafeteria plays a very important part when our school is thrown open for parents to visit. Here students and their parents choose delicious food at the supper hour. Opposite Page (center): A lively, happy group we see at one table on Open House night, among them our own Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Arnold, Superintendent and Mrs. Thomas B. Portwood, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Guy Rogers. Opposite Page (lower): Parents marvel at the lovely garments made in Miss Opal Hughes's sewing classes by their own daughters, tomorrow's home makers, proudly exhibiting.



Above: On Open House night parents not only can see what their sons and daughters do at school, but they can also do what their children do. Here a father aims professionally at the "bullseye" on the rifle range, while son LeRoy Birdwell and his mother critically watch. Below: High ranking marksmen of the R.O.T.C. boys' and Cadet Corps girls' rifle teams practice for coming matches with other good teams.

The Spirit of Yuletide

Left (upper): As Yuletide draws near, enthusiastic Student Council members decorate the huge Christmas tree in the main hall for the students to admire. Left (lower): Another lovely side of Student Council service at Christmas! Thankful for our many blessings, Jeff students "go all out" to aid the city's needy. Here Student Council members happily load one of several trucks that carried our school's contribution to distribution headquarters.

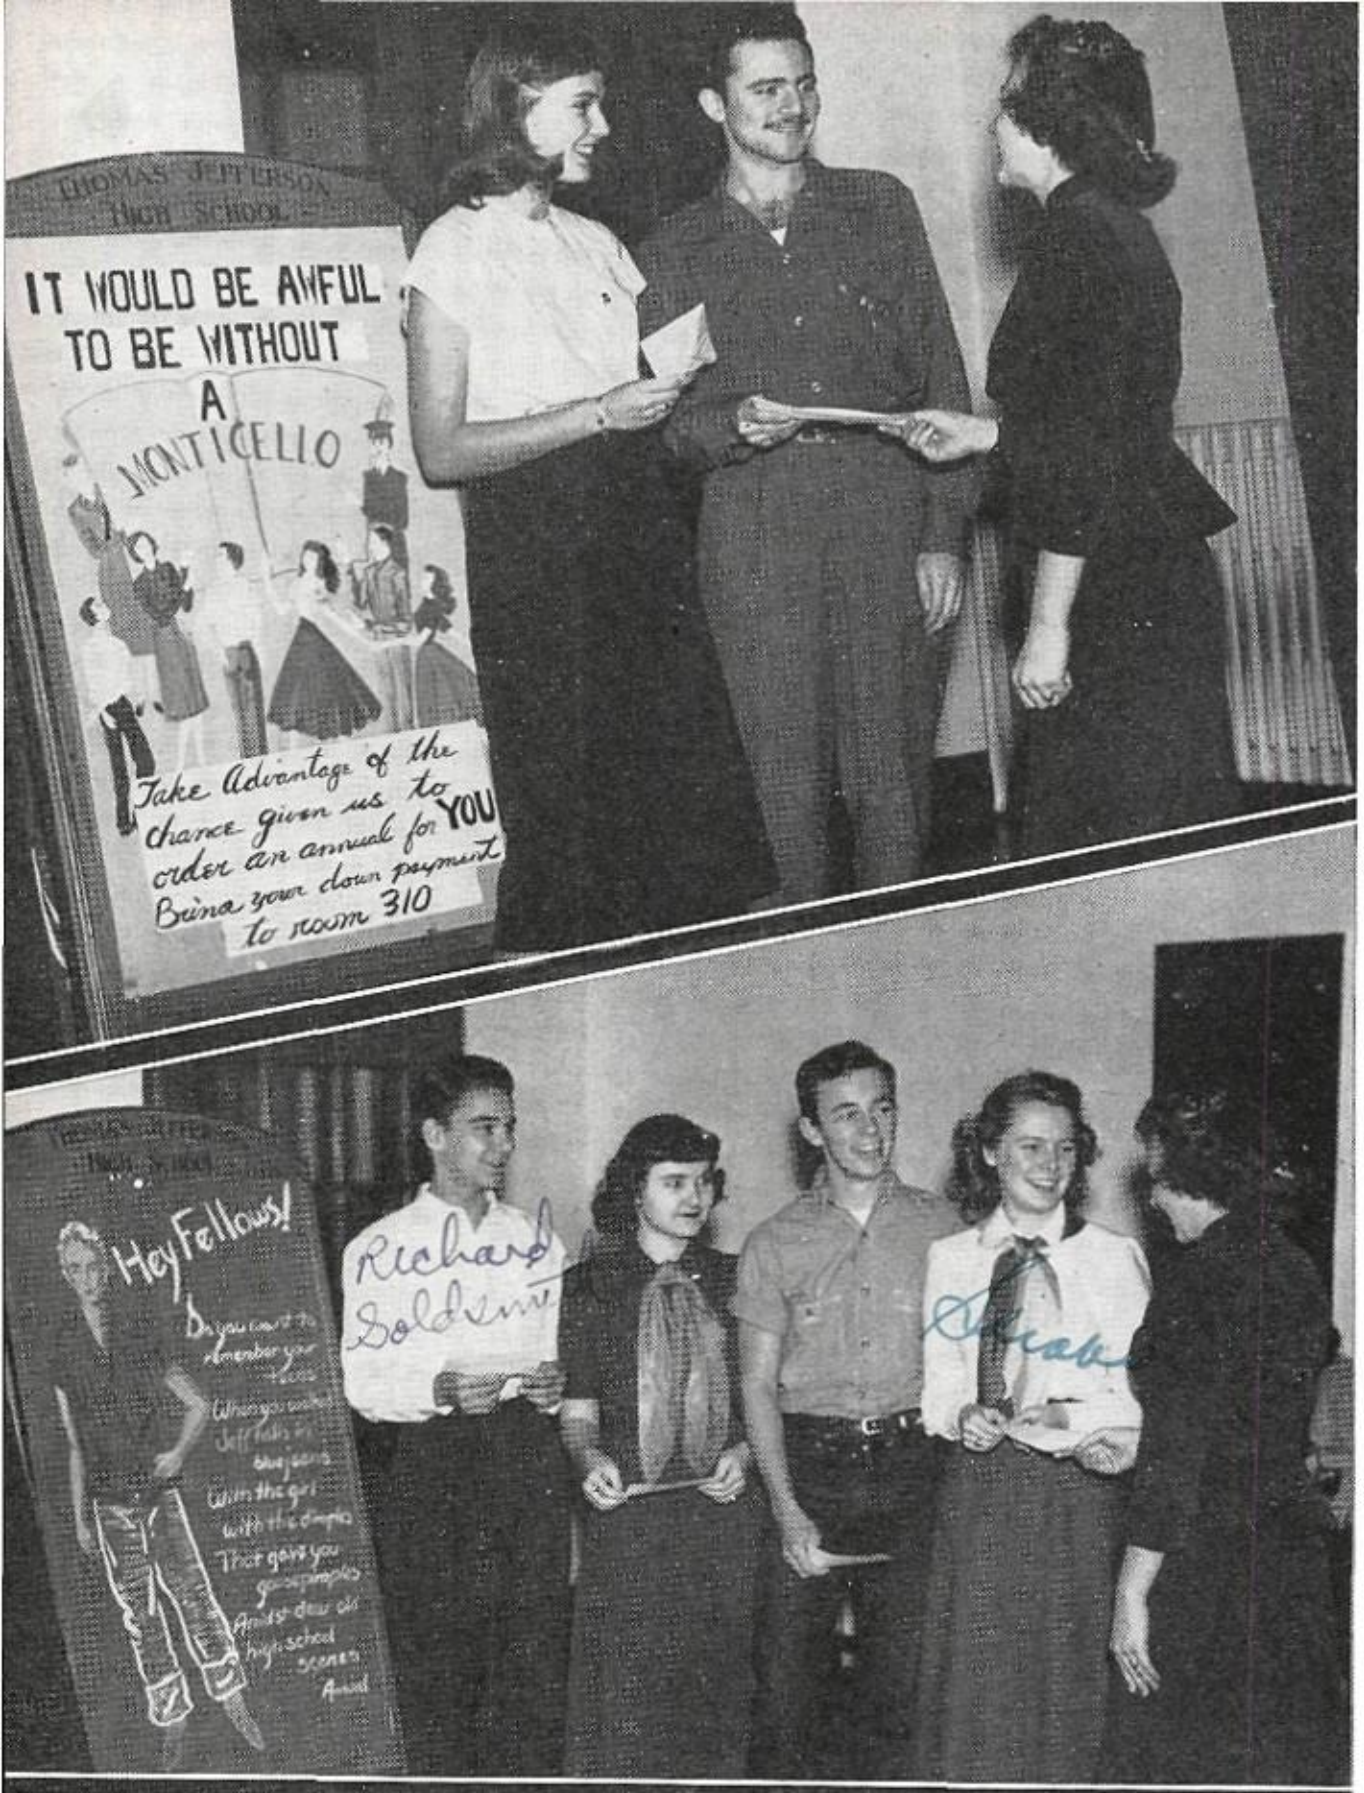
Opposite Page (upper): At a surprise Christmas party given by the Hicks Advisory in honor of Mr. "Shorty" Metzger, caretaker of our school's lovely gardens, the spirit of Christmas is beautifully demonstrated by an appreciation gift for the honor guest. Opposite Page (center): Each member of the choral groups portraying a glittering Christmas tree ornament in the midst of green fir boughs, the human Christmas tree astounds the audience with its lovely carol singing at the Christmas assembly. Opposite Page (lower): Entranced by the lovely strains of music from Edwin Marvin Olschansky's accordion, National Honor Society members gladly wait for the delicious refreshments at their Christmas social.

★ Christmas Spirit Everywhere ★



Honors Galore

Left (upper): Truly a high honor for school service rendered is the winning of free annuals by Elsa Neitzke of the M. J. R.'s and Bob Polunsky of the Forum. Circulation Manager Joan Janice Sherrod proudly hands the two winners the letters announcing the honor. Left (center): One of Jefferson's finest traditions is the club interest in the sale of annuals. Here Joan presents checks to the representatives of the four winning clubs: Richard Goldsmith, Senate; Peggy Martha Knight, Skelton; Thomas H. White, Forum; and Sarah Ann Burk, M. J. R., which won $10.00 and 1st place. Left (lower): Prexy Walter Powell Gray proudly pins the Latin Club pin on smiling James Perry for his amusing interpretation of Henry Ford's policies at the annual Latin Saturnalia contest at Christmas-tide.

Above: "Chin up! Chest out! Breathe deep! Hold it!" One moment of suspense, then a click, and we breathe again. Back to class we go, thankful that we will soon know the results of our tuberculosis X-Ray.

Never A Dull Moment

Left (upper): Library Council members consider seriously the new method of running the library by student control. Left (center): So that's how it's done — many collectors instead of one! Miss Boyle's advisory is the winner of first place in the Community Chest campaign. Left (lower): A memorable occasion is the wiener roast honoring the R.O.T.C. and Girls' Cadet Corps at Corinne Delavan's lovely home on Greenlawn.

Above: The old term has ended; long live the new term! In the past are the finals and last term's books; in the immediate present are the necessity for getting new classes lined up and — getting new books. Here Student Council members are shown amidst ceiling-high stacks of books, preparing to cart them into the cafeteria for distribution to long lines of eager fellow students.

Opposite Page (upper): Books! Books!! Books!!! President Boots Gaubatz and Student Council members discuss an important question as they arrange books and more books in a distribution booth. Opposite Page (lower): My, oh, my! Here some troubled students are still finding more books to turn in to Student Council members so that they can check out other books next day.

★ Day of Great Importance ★

influence very evident here! The adobe and tufa of which the church was built similar to the stone in the Roman catacombs, the arcade running south from the front entrance like an old Roman aqueduct, the rare, original frescoes still faintly showing on the front wall, hand-hewn stones used for door frames and cornices, bookshelves of stone in the library — all this loveliness was awe-inspiring at Mission Concepcion.

September 10 — The Tivy Antlers of Kerrville handed Jeff a 12-0 licking in the initial game of the season. With both touchdowns scored early in the first and second quarters, the powerful Antlers were held scoreless throughout the second half. Although beaten, the inexperienced but spirited Mustangs showed great improvement as the game progressed. September 18 — The vastly improved Ponies upset the Temple Wildcats 7-6 for the first Jefferson gridiron victory of 1948. quarterback Chambers. The lone Red and Blue tally came in the second quarter with Quinn going over to climax a drive which started on the Jeff twenty. Raybourn booted the winning placement, while Richmond, Duke, and Windrow starred in the line. September 24 — The game Jeff should have won but couldn't! Leading in every department except scoring, the Mustangs were edged 7-6 by the Austin Maroons at Austin. Meeks scored the only Jefferson touchdown on a sensational 67-yard punt return, but the conversion failed. Time and again the Mustangs powered their way to within a few yards of the Maroon goal only to be set back by penalties. A 47-yard run by Meeks that would have been the winning touchdown was also called back on a clipping penalty. The entire Jeff team played an outstanding game against their heavier opponents. October 1 — The determined Jeff Mustangs upset the heavier and favored Corpus Christi Buccaneers 6-0 for their second win in four starts. The game's only touchdown was scored after 2½ minutes play when Windrow recovered a Buc fumble on the Corpus 18. After runs by Meeks and Pantuso, Chambers scored from the two on a sneak. Jefferson almost scored several times in the second half as Douglas made a beautiful 70-yard punt, and Windrow blocked and recovered a kick on the Corpus 25. October 14 — The speedy Mustangs crushed the Lanier Voks 40-0 in Alamo Stadium for their first Conference win. Scoring in every quarter, the Red and Blue showed that they were no team to be overlooked in the new City Conference district race. Halfback Meeks carried over two touchdowns on 66 and 25-yard jaunts. Beard, Pantuso, and Stone each scored one touchdown on runs, and Donzis scored on an 18-yard pass from Raybourn. Outstanding lineman of the game was Reeves, who blocked two kicks. Raybourn converted three times and Hoagland once. October 21 — Winning their second straight Conference victory in as many starts, the rugged Mustangs shut out the Harlandale Indians 14-0. The terrific running attack of the Horses was led by halfbacks Pantuso and Meeks, who each gained more than 100 yards. Jefferson's first score came after Beard recovered a fumble on the Harlandale 42, and several plays later Pantuso plunged to paydirt from the 2. Pantuso also scored the second touchdown when he raced over the double stripe from the 12-yard line, climaxing an 80-yard drive. Raybourn converted after both touchdowns, and Beard, Windrow, and Duke were outstanding on defense. October 30 — Continuing their winning ways, the Mustangs thrashed the Burbank Bulldogs 25-6 to keep their district slate clean. first for the Red and Blue on a brilliant 38-yard scamper, with the second touchdown coming on a 2-yard pass to Donzis. Continuing the touchdown parade, Beard and Douglas scored on 76 and 14-yard runs respectively. The lone Burbank tally came in the fading seconds of the last quarter as a result of a series of desperate passes. Linemen Richmond, Windrow, Duke, and Reeves played a fine game for the Mustangs. November 6 — The determined Jefferson Mustangs smashed the highly favored Alamo Heights Mules 20-15 in Alamo Stadium to hand them their first loss in district play. Completely surprising the Mules, the Mustangs scored three quick touchdowns in the first half and held their lead the remainder of the game. Jeff's first touchdown came with Pantuso going around right end for 16 yards, and Meeks scored the second on a 4-yard center buck. The final Jeff tally came on a pass from Chambers to Richmond that covered 50 yards. November 12 — Whipping Tech 16-7, the rugged Mustangs upset the slim hopes of the Buffs for the title. After an early safety in the first quarter, Meeks plunged over from the one and Raybourn converted to make it 9-0. Again in the third quarter Meeks scored from the 2; Raybourn converted to make the score 16-0. The Tech score came in the last quarter with Casanova going over from the 2. November 25 — The fighting Red and Blue of Jefferson emerged from the annual Turkey Day classic against Brackenridge with a 7-7 tie and the district championship. The first half ended in a scoreless tie, but after the halftime period the Eagles scored a touchdown almost immediately to take a 7-0 lead. Still determined, the Mustangs took over the ball and started a drive which ended with a 10-yard pass from Chambers to Barksdale and 6 points. Raybourn then kicked the extra point, which tied the game and won the championship. December 4 — The fighting but unlucky Mustangs were defeated 13-12 by the Lamar Redskins in the Big City Conference semi-finals in Houston. Although the Nags led in first downs, penetrations, and yards gained, they were unable to outscore the Houstonians. The Redskins took an early 6-0 lead, but the Mustangs soon scored with a 19-yard pass from Chambers to Richmond. Scoring again, the Redskins took a 13-6 lead, but later they punted to the Jeff 27, where Meeks took the ball and raced 73 yards for a touchdown. The conversion was blocked by the surging Redskins. The entire team played superb ball for Jefferson throughout the 1948 football season.

Top Row: — Douglas; Trevino; Sowell; Kennedy; Rodgers; Caballero, Manager. Middle Row:—Moseley; Stone; Meeks; Talerico; Williams. Lower Row: — Brown; Flinders; Coach Harry Hamilton; Alexander; Mathews. Coach Hamilton's masterly handling of Jeff's basketball teams has brought many honors and much glory to our school.

January 11 — Starting the season right, Jefferson whipped Tech 51-41 in their first district game. Leading by a score of 24-18 at the half time, the Nags poured on the steam in the last two periods to win going away. Forward Flinders copped scoring honors with 20 points; Douglas followed closely with 19. January 14 — No match for the sharp-shooting Mustangs, the Harlandale Indians were the next victims of the Red and Blue. Leading by 20 points at the half, the Jeff reserves played the greater part of the second half. Flinders and Douglas tied for scoring honors with 16 tallies each as the game ended 60-34. January 18 — Continuing their winning ways, the Red and Blue crushed the Burbank Bulldogs 51-30 to remain undefeated in Conference play. Though leading by only one point as the first half ended, the Mustangs came roaring back in the second to lead by 21 as the final gun sounded. January 21—The defending district champion Mustangs smacked Alamo Heights 43-21 in the Heights gym. Guard Stone tossed in 11 tallies to take scoring honors, and Douglas and Trevino, who played his last game of the season, scored 10 each. January 26 — Suffering from the loss of Trevino and slowed down by injuries to Sowell and Stone, the Mustangs suffered their first district loss at the hands of the Lanier Voks, 51-37. Although Douglas was as great as usual, he fouled out in the final quarter to weaken the Nags. February 4 — Displaying poise and skill and making victory look easy, Jeff's rampaging Mustangs trampled the only undefeated district team, Brackenridge, 46-37, to throw the league into a three-way tie for first place. High point man was Douglas, with 18 markers. February 8 —

The scoring was evenly distributed, as Douglas took the honors with 17 tallies, Flinders with 12, Matthews 10, Stone 8, and Sowell and Brown 5 each. February 15 — The Burbank Bulldogs proved no match for the classy Mustangs and fell 49-39 before the onslaught of the Thoroughbreds. Continuing to lead the scorers, Douglas tallied 17 and Flinders 16. February 18 — The cellar-dwelling Alamo Heights Mules were soundly trounced by the classy Nags to the tune of 57-40. Flinders, Douglas, and Matthews played top games as the Nags coasted to their 9th district win of the season. February 22 — The Red and Blue were dealt a crippling blow by the Lanier Voks, as they received a 51-35 thrashing. Seemingly unable to hit the bucket, Jeff lost its chance at the district title. March 3 — The fighting Mustangs dropped a heartbreaking 41-39 decision to Brackenridge in the final game of the year. Had Jeff won, a trip to the post season tournament in Houston would have been earned. Nevertheless the Mustangs played outstanding basketball throughout the year and finished in an enviable position.

FIRST

mill built in Texas! North of the acequia we saw San Jose's Old Mill, restored some dozen years ago, the water reservoir built of rock blocks, plastered with mortar mixed with milk, the vault opening toward the field built of tufa, the mill above it, the vaulted room housing the turbine, the ancient water wheel a treasure in itself — what a wealth of advertising value as well as historical value this restoration was for our historic old city.

Appreciation

The MONTICELLO is deeply grateful to all who, by their unusually fine coöperation, contributed to the value of this "Missions Edition" of our Thomas Jefferson High School yearbook.

OUR FRIENDS OF OUR BUSINESS FIRMS

who so closely coöperated with us in the production of our book. Our special thanks go to the Clegg Company, the Brand Engraving Company, Beverly Studios, Studer's, John Huntress, Jr., and the S. K. Smith Company.

OUR FRIENDS WITHIN OUR SCHOOL

who have helped us in innumerable ways. Our Principal, our Assistant Principal, our Dean of Girls, our Attendance Officer, our Main Office secretaries, our teachers, and our schoolmates all deserve our gratitude.

OUR ADVERTISING FRIENDS

whose friendly coöperation with us and belief in us made this book possible. (Please see the list of these good friends, pages 188-189.)
